

A Resident's Guide to Frequently Asked Questions

2002

Introduction

This book began as Dave Warden's personal attempt to answer many of the questions that people asked him during his time both as a Planning Commissioner and as a candidate for City Council. There are numerous information sources available to the public, but these tidbits of knowledge are often scattered throughout City and county booklets, library pamphlets, and the brains of many individuals. The purpose of this book is to consolidate as much of this information as possible and to create a general information resource for Belmont residents that is easy to use.

A book like this is by nature incomplete, and invariably will be out of date as soon as it is published. However, the goal is to maintain this book as a reference for years to come and to make it available on the City's web site, keeping the information as up-to-date and comprehensive as possible.

The City Council and staff hope you find this booklet helpful!

Questions or suggestions regarding this booklet should be sent to the City Manager's office at 595-7408 or email cmanager@ci.belmont.ca.us.

If you are concerned about noise from jets and large commercial planes, you can call the San Francisco Airport Noise Abatement Center at (650) 876-2219 and file a formal complaint. For small plane noise issues, you can call the San Carlos Airport at (650) 573-3700.

Alcoholism

Does Belmont have an AA chapter? Where and when do they meet?

Belmont's Alcoholics Anonymous (AA) meetings take place at the Good Shepherd Church, in the Parish building, at 1300 5th Avenue. General meeting times are Mondays at 7:30pm; Tuesdays at 12 noon; Thursdays at 7:30pm; and Fridays at noon and 6:00pm. In addition, there are women's group meetings on Friday at 5:30pm and on Saturday at 5:00pm. There is also a youth group meeting on Friday at 7:30pm. You can call (650) 573-6811 for further information and updated meeting times.

Family members coping with alcohol addictions can call Al-Anon at (650) 873-2356.

Animals, Domestic (see Pets)

Antennas

How large a rooftop antenna can I put on my house?

Without a permit, a roof-mounted antenna cannot exceed nine feet in height or four feet above the highest roof elevation, whichever is less. Ground-mounted antennas cannot exceed 12 feet in height and should not be visible from the public right-of-way. Any antenna taller than this height requires a conditional use permit. For any specific questions, please contact the Belmont Permit Center at (650) 595-7416.

Can I install a satellite dish on my property?

Without a permit, dish-type antennas cannot be greater than six feet in diameter nor seven feet in height. Any satellite dish larger than this requires a conditional use permit. There are also property line setback requirements, and the dish should not be visible from the public right-of-way. For further information, call the Belmont Permit Center at (650) 595-7416.

Banner Policy

Can I hang a banner advertisement across Ralston Ave.?

City or city-sponsored events are given "first priority" for use of the banner poles. Belmont affiliated organizations are given "second priority" for use of the banner poles. No banners will be used to advertise a business or a product. All applications must be made in writing on the Temporary Banner Permit Application form available in the Permit Center.

Contact the Permit Center at (650) 595-7416 for more information or to find out about construction specifications and insurance requirements.

Building / Construction

I need to hire a contractor for a building project. Where should I start?

Ask your friends and neighbors about positive experiences they have had with various contractors. Also, see if your local neighborhood association maintains a list of recommended contractors. (See the Neighborhoods section)

Contact the Peninsula Builders Exchange, a non-profit, member-run organization, for a referral. You can call them at (650) 591-4486 or see them on the web at <http://www.best.com/~pbx>.

Make sure that you deal only with LICENSED contractors. Call the Contractors State License Board at 1-800-321-2752 to verify any information provided by the contractor. Have the contractor's name, license number, and business address handy when you call.

Try to get bids from at least three different contractors on a job. Be sure to ask for references of work that the contractor has completed in the local area. Make sure you get a written contract, and don't sign it until you fully understand all the terms.

Does the Belmont Planning Division have building plans for my house? Can I get a copy?

The City has a folder on file for nearly every developed lot in Belmont. This folder should contain copies of all permitted improvements made to the property. Sometimes, especially for older houses, there are no plans, the plans are outdated or incomplete, or some of the work may not have been done with the proper permits: in such cases, the plans would not appear in the file.

No copies can be made of any plans without written permission from the architect. For more details, call the Permit Center at (650) 595-7416, or stop by the counter in Suite 309 during normal business hours at City Hall, 1070 Sixth Avenue.

Does Belmont teach any classes to help with remodeling projects?

Yes! The City of Belmont usually gives one or two classes a year for people who would like to know more about the building and remodeling process. For further information, call the Belmont Building Division at (650) 595-7422.

I want to build a new house or add onto an existing house in Belmont. What do I have to do?

Belmont's Permit Center currently provides the following information:

1. The Project Concept. A developer, property owner, or business has an idea to construct or remodel a building in Belmont. At this point, there may be lots of questions about the zoning designation of the property in question, whether a use permit is required, and whether design requirements are a factor for the project. The place to start is the City's Permit Center, where staff can provide the information you need and answer your questions.

2. Pre-application Meeting. Prior to the submission of a development application, staff in the Planning Division is available to meet developers/owners to discuss project plans in conceptual form and to provide general information and direction regarding application submittal requirements. This gives potential customers the opportunity to obtain information about the review process, realistic estimates of the time involved, and tips for minimizing delays.

3. Development Application. An application, which includes the building design and a site plan, is submitted to the Planning Division. A city planner is then assigned to the project, and the application is sent out to various departments for review and comment.

4. Referral Review. After staff has had an opportunity to review the development application, the project planner meets with department representatives to discuss their comments, issues, and recommended conditions of approval for the project. More information and plans may be requested from the applicant based on the results of the various departments' and divisions' review.

5. Staff Report and Public Hearing. The project planner writes a staff report about the project including the planning concerns and conditions of approval. Staff recommends in the report whether the application should be approved or denied, based on whether the proposed project meets the City's requirements and policies. The application request is then scheduled for a public hearing before the Planning Commission or the City Council. At a public hearing the applicant is provided an opportunity to address the Commission or Council. Certain applications can be approved without a public hearing by the Planning Director.

6. Construction Plans Submittal. Once the project has been approved, a building permit application and construction plans are submitted to the Building Division for review. Other permits may also be necessary from the Fire Authority Engineering Division of public works, the County Health Department, etc.

7. Project Plan Check. City plan checkers in the Building Division review the construction plans for compliance with building codes. Plans also may be routed to the Public Works, Fire, or Parks and Recreation Departments for their review and comment. Plans will be checked against any project conditions of approval established by the Planning Commission or the City Council in a public hearing. The plan check process may take from one day to several weeks, depending on the complexity of the project. You will be notified within 30 days of the status of your permit request. In some cases you may wish to submit plans for plan check before your project is approved in a public hearing. In this case, you do so at your own risk.

8. Permit Issuance and Construction Inspections. No construction is permitted without the required permits. During construction, periodic field inspections are made to insure that the project is being constructed in compliance with the approved plans and the applicable codes. Construction is permitted only between the hours of 8am and 5pm Monday through Friday, and 10am and 5pm on Saturday. No construction is permitted on Sundays or holidays.

I have heard about “Design Review”—what is it?

Every new residential structure, or any residential addition of more than 400 square feet that extends outside the building envelope is subject to Design Review by the Belmont Planning Commission. This means that a public hearing is scheduled for the project, and all neighbors within 300 feet are notified by mail and may make public comment on the design of the new house or the addition, and how it may affect their own homes and their neighborhood.

Most projects requiring design review have been approved as originally submitted, with some cases requiring minor modifications. Many times, the project is improved as a result of the design review. Factors that the Planning Commission looks at include floor area, building bulk, exterior and roof materials, total amount of grading, drainage, landscaping, parking, siting, and potential view obstructions. For further information, contact the Permit Center at (650) 595-7416.

How high a fence or retaining wall can I build?

See the answer to this and other permit-related questions in the Building Permits section.

Building Inspections

How much notice is required for a building inspection? Where do I call to schedule an inspection?

Building inspections can generally be scheduled for the next business day, although more notice is always better both for you and for the city. The City of Belmont has a better than 99% track record of servicing building inspections on the date that they were requested. For further information or to schedule an appointment, call the Building Division at (650) 595-7422.

Building Permits

What types of construction in Belmont require a building permit?

Most anything that you can possibly think of requires a building permit from the city. It's much easier to list things that DO NOT require a permit:

- Fences 6 feet tall or shorter
- Retaining walls 4 feet tall or shorter, measured from the bottom of the footing or post to the top of the wall
- Painting and wallpapering
- Walks and driveways NOT more than 30" above grade, and NOT above a basement or story
- Free-standing sheds less than 120 square feet
- And a few other things like water tanks and oil derricks!

In general, any mechanical or structural work (like cabinets, doors, windows, roofs, etc.), plumbing work (sinks, toilets, irrigation, water heaters, etc.), or electrical work (appliances, furnaces, garage door openers, pool pumps, etc.) requires a building permit. If you have any questions about a project, please call the Belmont Building Division at (650) 595-7422.

REMEMBER—building permits ensure that any work done in your home is done PROPERLY, for health and safety reasons, and will save you time and money in the long run when you sell your home.

Do I need a permit to...

... install or reface my kitchen cabinets?

You do not need a permit to reface your cabinets. You do need a permit to replace them.

... replace my water heater?

Yes. If you pay a plumber to do the job, he would also normally get the permit.

... replace my roof?

Yes. If you pay a roofer to do the work, he will generally get the permit.

... replace a sink or a toilet?

Technically, yes. Practically speaking, few permits are filed for these repairs.

... add or replace a fence?

If the fence is 6 feet tall or shorter, you do not need a building permit. In addition, no fence, wall, or hedge can exceed 3-1/2 feet in height when located in a front yard that is within 40 feet of a street intersection. This is to provide a line of sight for cross traffic. Also, you cannot build your fence too close to the street in the city's right-of-way without an encroachment permit (see Encroachments).

... build a retaining wall?

If the retaining wall is 4 feet tall or shorter, you do not need a building permit. However, as with fences, you cannot build a retaining wall in the city's right-of-way without an encroachment permit (see Encroachments). The height of the wall is measured from the bottom of the footing or post to the top of the wall.

... replace a furnace?

Yes, but the heating/furnace contractor should get it for you.

... install a pool, a spa, or a hot tub?

Prefabricated swimming pools that are 5,000 gallons or less, whose walls are entirely above grade (i.e., Dough-Boy™-style, above ground pools) do not require a permit. Hot tubs, spas, and in-ground pools that need plumbing and electrical work DO require building permits, unless they are entirely self-contained units. Call the Belmont Building Division at (650) 595-7422

... build a greenhouse or a tool shed?

Single-story buildings that are NOT attached to other buildings, not exceeding 120 square feet (including the roofline), do not need a permit. Above 120 square feet, contact the Building Division at (650) 595-7422. In addition, City setback requirements may apply. Please contact the Planning Division at (650) 595-7416 for further information.

... enclose part of my yard?

When you enclose or cover part of your yard, you are in effect increasing the square footage of your living space. This requires a building permit. If the square footage then exceeds 400 square feet, a public design review will also be required. See the question on "Design Review" and the "Planning and Building process" question in the Building / Construction section.

... connect to the city storm drain system?

Yes, you will need an encroachment permit. See the Encroachments section, and call (650) 595-7425.

Can I use a credit card to pay for building fees and permits?

Yes. The City accepts cash, check, Visa and Master Card.

Business Licenses and Permits

You cannot have a business that increases traffic (either cars or pedestrians), or involves any retail sales (except mail order), nor can you display any signs. All of your business must take place in a fully enclosed building, and you must also obtain a business license from the City Finance Department. There are other restrictions as well. For further details, call the Permit Center at (650) 595-7416 or the Planning division at 595-7436.

All businesses operating for profit in San Mateo County are also required to file a Fictitious Business Name Statement within 30 days of opening. The process takes approximately 30 days to complete.

Cars (see Parking and also Traffic)

Code Enforcement

How do I report graffiti that I just saw on Belmont public property?

As a community, we need to deal with graffiti as soon as it appears. The only way to discourage graffiti is to paint it out immediately. Many people associate graffiti with the general decline of an area, even if it is not true. Belmont merchants can lose business because potential customers feel that the area is not safe. If the graffiti is on city-owned property, call the Public Works Department at (650) 595-7427. Private property owners are responsible for removing graffiti on their property.

My neighbor's house is a real eyesore—peeling paint, trash in the front yard, weeds, etc. What can I do about it?

Call the City of Belmont Code Enforcement Officer at (650) 637-2968. One of Belmont's highest priorities is to preserve and maintain our neighborhoods. A strong code enforcement program has been shown to reduce crime and improve property values. The general "hierarchy" of code enforcement cases are: 1) Health and Safety, 2) On-going Enforcement, and 3) General Welfare. Here are SOME general property maintenance items that are prohibited in Belmont (this is certainly not a complete list):

- Overgrown grass, weeds, and vegetation
- Trash visible from the public right-of-way
- Broken appliances, furniture, boxes, empty cartons, toys, etc.
- Discarded building materials
- Trash cans stored such that they are visible from the public right-of-way
- Clothes lines in front yards

The City of Belmont recognizes the need for confidentiality for people who file complaints, and also understand that flexibility is needed in code enforcement activities when violators are elderly or infirm.

More information on the City's code enforcement program is available on the web at www.belmont.gov.

My street has beat-up cars parked on it that never seem to be used. What can I do about them?

Belmont has an ordinance within the city that a vehicle must be moved every 72 hours (3 days) at least 1/10 of a mile. Only currently registered and fully operable vehicles (cars, boats, etc.) can legally be parked on the street. For more detailed information, see the section on Parking in this guide.

Demographics

How many people live in Belmont?

The Federal government conducts a census every 10 years. The 2000 census put the Belmont population at 25,123, and the 1990 census put the Belmont population at 24,127.

Where can I get detailed Belmont demographic information?

The Belmont City Clerk's office has a variety of Belmont demographic information, such as mean household income, ethnic breakdown, and various other statistics. Stop by the City Clerk's office at 1070 Sixth Avenue, Suite 311, in Belmont City Hall, or you can access the U.S. Census Bureau website at <http://www.census.gov>.

Earthquakes/Emergencies

What should I do during an earthquake?

If you are INSIDE, stay inside. Get under a desk or table, or stand in a doorway. Stay away from windows and from any object that might fall on top of you.

If you are OUTSIDE, stay outside. Get out into the open, away from buildings, trees, utility poles, and power lines.

If you are DRIVING, pull over to the side of the road, stop, and stay in your car. Do not park under an overpass, under power lines, or near utility poles, trees, signs, or large buildings.

How should I prepare for the next earthquake?

There are a number of specific things that every family should do to prepare for the next inevitable earthquake. A number of excellent pamphlets are available from San Mateo County, PG&E, the Belmont Library, and several other sources. A short, essential list of things you should do includes the following:

- Know how to turn off the gas, electricity, and water to your home.
- Make sure your water heater is strapped to the wall.
- Don't hang heavy pictures or mirrors over beds.
- Secure tall, heavy furniture that could fall over—bookcases, china cabinets, etc. Avoid hanging plants in heavy pots. Don't place breakables and heavy objects on high shelves.
- Store flammable liquids safely—in a shed or garage, away from ignition sources.
- Consult with an architect or engineer about earthquake improvements to your house.
- Have basic emergency supplies on hand—portable radio, water, first-aid kit, flashlights, batteries, and blankets.
- Pick an out-of-town friend or relative to act as a point of contact in case family members become separated and cannot contact one another.

Encroachments

How can I get an encroachment permit? Why do I need one?

What do they cost?

The Belmont City Code governs the use of the public right-of-way by individuals. The City Council is authorized to issue an encroachment permit, which allows you to perform construction work within the public right-of-way. This type of work frequently includes retaining walls, driveways, parking ramps, stairways and fences. To make a positive finding for such a permit, the Council should be able to confirm the following:

- That there is some public benefit to the encroachment—such as added off-street parking spaces, sidewalks, safer site distances from intersections, etc.
- That the encroachment will not unduly restrict travel in the public right-of-way.
- That the city will be protected from liability for injury or property damage.
- That the performance of all the conditions and requirements of the permit will be guaranteed by the posting of a bond with the city.

You can pick up a permit application for an encroachment permit at Permit Center, Belmont City Hall, 1070 Sixth Avenue, Suite 309. The phone number is (650) 595-7416.

Facility Rentals

What types of rental facilities are available from the city?

The Belmont Parks and Recreation Department has a total of five facilities that can be rented for meetings, parties, weddings, and other functions:

- The Twin Pines Senior and Community Center is a beautiful, modern, multi-use facility located in picturesque Twin Pines Park. Taking advantage of natural light, the Center is open and inviting. The Center is ideal for wedding receptions, seminars, parties, and organizational meetings. The facility offers a large banquet room that can comfortably seat 200 people for dining. The Center also has the capability to reduce the banquet room to half for smaller functions. Offering a large, full-service kitchen, the Center is excellent for catered events. The adjacent patio presents a number of possibilities for an outside social event. Designed in a Mediterranean style, the Twin Pines Senior and Community Center is one of the city's most versatile and attractive facilities.
- The Twin Pines Lodge is one of the park's oldest buildings, and has recently been renovated. Located next to a winding creek, the Lodge offers country charm amid lush greenery. Ideal for intimate receptions, parties and meetings, the Lodge can accommodate 50 to 100 people. Parties of 50 can enjoy the rustic main room while gatherings of 100 can add two other smaller rooms and the patio area. The Lodge has a kitchen, tables and chairs for 100 people, indoor sound capabilities and the versatility for either an indoor or outdoor event. For weddings, many have held their ceremony on the patio and then the reception inside.
- The Twin Pines Cottage is a small building at the back of the park that was saved from demolition in the 1970's by the Cottage Auxiliary group. This richly historical building holds 30 people and is ideal for small meetings, luncheons, baby showers or social events.
- The Belmont Sports Complex Conference Center is located at 550 Island Parkway east of Highway 101. This new facility can accommodate private parties, meetings, conferences, and training opportunities for up to 125 people.

Fire Department Information

What should I do if I smell burning or a strange smell in my house or yard?

Call South County Fire Department at (650) 593-8016; or, if you think it's an emergency, call 911! The Fire Department gets several calls every month from people who detect an odd smell in their homes. It may be a gas leak or some other dangerous vapor. The Fire Department has a special "sniffer" gadget that can detect many different types of odors and whether or not they are harmful. So don't take any chances, call if you smell something funny.

What do I do if I see smoke or a fire?

Call 911! Immediately!

What types of fire extinguishers should I have?

How many fire extinguishers should I have in my house?

You should install a fire extinguisher in every room that poses a potential fire hazard: the kitchen, the garage, any living space with a fireplace, and any workshops. Mount the fire extinguishers on a wall 3 ½ to 5 feet above the floor. The location should be near the room's exit or escape route.

Fire extinguishers are categorized by ratings (A, B, C) that determine the size and type of fire that the extinguisher can successfully put out. An "A" type fire is primarily wood, paper, and fabric; "B" type fires are primarily grease and oil based; and "C" type fires are electrical in nature. The number preceding the A, B, or C rating determines what size fire the extinguisher can put out. For example, a 10B:C extinguisher would be able to handle a 25-square-foot fire of either oil or electrical origin. A 5B:C extinguisher could handle a 12.5 square-foot fire that is oil or electrical based.

Get a good B, C fire extinguisher for the kitchen; and a good A, B, C extinguisher for the garage and the other living areas. Make sure you have at least one fire extinguisher on every level of your house, including the basement.

Where should I place smoke alarms in my home? How many smoke alarms do I need?

You should install a smoke alarm inside each bedroom as well as in the main corridor or hallway outside each bedroom area. You need to install a minimum of two alarms even in single-level homes. You should also install a smoke alarm above the stairwells.

Ideally, mount the alarms in the middle of the ceiling. If that isn't possible (because of a light fixture, etc.), then mount the alarms on the wall at least three feet away from any corner and 4 - 6 inches away from the ceiling. Keep smoke alarms away from drafts created by fans or air ducts, since moving air can blow smoke away from the sensor. Also, avoid placing smoke alarms too near the kitchen stove or bathroom shower.

What should I do if I see or smell smoke, smell a chemical release, or witness a potential medical emergency?

Call 911, the emergency telephone number for the South County Fire Authority.

What should I do if I witness an actual fire, a chemical release, a medical or similar emergency?

Call 911, the emergency telephone number for the South County Fire Authority.

What should I do if I witness something I believe is a fire hazard in a building where I work, shop, or reside?

Contact a building representative first. If your communication with this responsible party does not result in the successful resolution of your concern(s), contact the South County Fire Authority's Prevention and Education Division at (650) 802-4255. You will confidentially be asked for your name and telephone number should a fire inspector need to follow-up with you. Sorry, anonymous reports cannot be accepted.

What should I do to protect my family and my residence from the ravages of fire?

- 1. Install smoke detectors inside each bedroom, in the corridor or hallway area serving the bedrooms, and at the top of each stairwell, if your residence is not already so equipped.*
- 2. Regularly test your smoke detector(s) to ensure their proper operability.*
- 3. Install a 2A/10BC portable fire extinguisher to combat small fires involving ordinary combustibles, flammable/combustible liquids, and energized electrical equipment. The preferable location to mount portable fire extinguishers is on a wall, 3.5 to 5 feet above the surface of the floor, near an exit or escape route.*
- 4. Clear combustible vegetation 30 feet to 100 feet away from your residence or to the property line, whichever is closest;*
- 5. Develop and practice an emergency escape plan involving all the occupants of your residence.*
- 6. Ensure that ordinary and/or special fire hazards don't exist on your property.*

Also, you cannot use the cart for garbage, only for yard waste.

Is it OK to put anything other than storm water in the gutters, catch basins and storm drains?

NO! Everything that goes into the Belmont gutters, catch basins and storm drains eventually flows into the bay. The Federal government has ordered cities to make sure that only storm water goes into the bay. Please make sure that storm water, and NOTHING ELSE, flows into the Belmont storm drains!

Graffiti (see also Code Enforcement)

Where does the graffiti come from? Who does it?

Most graffiti is done by youths from pre-teens to early 20's. Because most "taggers" like their peers to recognize their work, most graffiti is done by those who live nearby. Although many people believe that graffiti signals the presence of gangs, less than 10% of all graffiti nationwide is gang-related.

What can I do about graffiti?

Remove any graffiti immediately and continuously from your property. Vandals will realize that their time and paint is being wasted and will move on. Keep your property well lit, clean, and landscaped. Encourage Belmont businesses to clean up any existing graffiti on their property. Report any graffiti on Belmont public property to the Public Works Department at (650) 595-7427.

No person owning a building or vehicle in Belmont shall allow any graffiti to remain on his or her property when the graffiti is visible from the street. Such graffiti can be reported to the Belmont Police Department's Traffic and Graffiti Hotline at (650) 595-7455.

When was Belmont incorporated as a city?

Belmont was incorporated on the election of October 18th, 1926, as a city of the sixth class.

How did my street get its name?

Most people know the story of "Alameda de las Pulgas" (avenue of the fleas) and "El Camino Real" (the king's highway)—but there's also a reason behind every other street name in Belmont. The Belmont Historical Society has been working on "Name that Street", a compendium of Belmont street name origins. If you want to help, call the Belmont Historical Society at (650) 593-4213.

Are there any resources for researching my family's history?

There are also several short-term housing options, including the Holiday Inn Express and Summerfield Suites hotels.

Does Belmont have a financial program to assist homebuyers?

Yes! The Belmont City Council, through the Belmont Redevelopment Agency, is sponsoring a program to provide down payment assistance to qualified low-to-moderate income homebuyers in Belmont. The assistance is a long-term, low-interest loan for down payment funds. The payment of the loan is deferred for 30 years or until the home is sold. Here are some of the eligibility requirements:

- You must be a first time home buyer in Belmont or you must currently work in Belmont (and have worked in Belmont for the last two years), and you must not currently own a home.
- You must be able to qualify for a mortgage loan from a private lender.
- You must have sufficient assets to pay the down payment and closing costs required by the primary lender.
- You must remain the owner/occupant during the term of the down payment loan.
- Your total assets (stocks, cash, etc.) must not exceed $100,000.

My rent is very high! Does Belmont have rent control?

No, Belmont does not have rent control. The market economy determines the prevailing rental rates for housing in the city.

I have heard about “homesharing”—what is it?

Homesharing is an arrangement whereby two or more unrelated people share a residence, which could be a house or an apartment. This is a program sponsored by the Human Investment Project, through funding provided by San Mateo County.

The HIP facilitates two types of living arrangements—match or service exchange. In a match arrangement, the home provider is matched up with a seeker who pays rent. In a service exchange, a home seeker agrees to provide services to the homeowner in exchange for rent.

Homesharing reduces costs, promotes independence, and provides increased security for both parties. To arrange for an interview, call the Human Investment Project at (650) 348-6660.

Hydrants

I want to paint one of those “Happy Hydrants”—what do I do?

A Happy Hydrant committee was formed to re-paint the Happy Hydrants that were originally painted in 1976 as part of the City's 50th Anniversary celebration. You can pick up an application at the Belmont Library (1100 Alameda de las Pulgas). The fee for painting a hydrant is $15. For further information, Call Jim McLaughlin at (650) 593-5723.

What do the different colors on the hydrants mean?

Due to the fires in the Oakland Hills, the State of California has mandated that cities identify the flow capabilities of their hydrants in a uniform manner. This is so that firefighters who may be called in from other areas to fight fires can easily identify the hydrants. All the hydrants are painted white to stand out in the dark. The tops and sides of the hydrants are then painted red, orange, green, or blue to denote the gallons per minute flow capability:

- Red top - below 500 gallons per minute
- Orange top - 501 to 1000 gallons per minute
- Green top - 1001 to 1500 gallons per minute
- Blue top - over 1500 gallons per minute

Am I allowed to draw water from a Belmont fire hydrant?

Yes. The Mid Peninsula Water District will loan you a hydrant water meter for an $800 deposit. Then you pay a $57 service charge and $1.88 per unit of water that you use. One unit of water is approximately 750 gallons. Upon return of the meter, your $800 deposit will be refunded. Call the Water District at (650) 591-8941 for further information.

And more! If you haven't been to the Belmont Library in awhile, go and see what is available.

Neighbors / Neighborhoods

What are the neighborhood groups in Belmont? How can I join?

Joining a Belmont neighborhood organization is a great way to get involved with people who live in your local area. Here are the larger neighborhood associations:

- Belmont Heights Civic Improvement Association (Hallmark and Bellcrest Gardens)
- Central Neighborhood Association (North of Ralston, between Alameda and El Camino)
- Cipriani Neighborhood Association (streets off Cipriani, between Alameda and Ralston)

I cannot seem to get along with my neighbors! We cannot agree about his floodlights, parking, parties, etc. What can I do about it?

If you can't seem to work things out with your neighbors, call the Peninsula Conflict Resolution Center at (650) 373-3490. The PCRC is an independent, non-profit organization that provides FREE basic mediation for Belmont residents. Not only can they help with a variety of neighbor problems—such as noise, pets, parking, trees, and fences—but also with other issues such as landlords, tenants, employers, businesses and customers, and families.

Instead of fighting or going to court, a panel of mediators will listen to both sides of the issue in question. They will not take sides, but will assist you and the other party in finding a mutually satisfactory resolution. Try it, it works! 80% of disputes brought to mediation are settled, and 90% of the mediation agreements are upheld.

My neighbor has lots of weeds and trash in his yard. What can I do about it?

Garbage that can be seen from the street is a public nuisance. This includes not just trash but car parts, old furniture, etc. Not only does this make the neighborhood look bad, but it's also a fire, rodent, and wildlife hazard. First, try to talk to your neighbor; if this proves unsuccessful, you can report the problem to the city's code enforcement officer at (650) 637-2968. All information will be kept confidential.

Noise

Are there any time/day restrictions on gas-powered equipment?

Yes. Gasoline powered maintenance equipment may only be operated from 8:00am to sunset on weekdays, and from 10:00am to sunset on weekends and holidays. For violations on weekdays, call (650) 595-7416; for violations on weekends and holidays call (650) 595-7400.

Are there time restrictions on construction noise?

Yes. All construction and related activities that require a city building permit are only allowed from 8:00am to 5:00pm on weekdays, and from 10:00am to 5:00pm on Saturdays. No construction activities are allowed on Sundays or holidays. For violations on weekdays, call (650) 595-7416; for violations on weekends and holidays call (650) 595-7400.

Parking

My neighbor has an old, beat-up car, boat, or RV parked in front of his house and it looks terrible. What can I do about it?

FOR PARKING ON THE STREET—Belmont has an ordinance within the city that a vehicle must be moved every 72 hours (3 days) at least 1/10 of a mile. Only currently registered and fully operable vehicles (cars, boats, etc.) can be parked on the street. Parking on many of our streets is very limited, and is far too valuable for storing inoperable vehicles.

FOR PARKING ON PRIVATE PROPERTY—Only vehicles that are registered, and that can be legally operated on a California highway can be parked outside of a fully enclosed garage. Parking must be on paved or surfaced areas—not on dirt or lawns!

REMEMBER—Beat-up, inoperable cars are a sign of BLIGHT and give the message that people don't care about their property. This invites crime and lowers property values. It hurts the neighborhoods and the city.

To report a complaint, call the Police Department's Abandoned Vehicle Hotline at (650) 595-7455.

My neighbors keep parking in front of my house! What can I do?

There is no law requiring people to park their own cars in front of their own houses. Any legally registered, operable vehicle may be parked on the street in the public right-of-way. However, everyone seems to appreciate it if people keep their cars parked on or in front of their own property.

What should I do if my vehicle has been towed?

If your vehicle was towed by the Belmont Police, you must go to the Department and pay a release fee of $50. Then, go to the appropriate towing company and pay the towing and storage fees. If the vehicle was towed for an expired registration, you must also bring proof of current registration.

You must possess a valid California Driver's License if you will be driving the vehicle away after paying the towing fees.

Can I work on my car in front of my house?

You can only perform routine maintenance or emergency repairs outdoors. Minor repairs may be made in your driveway as long as the car is registered to the address where the work is taking place or registered to the person who is doing the work. All other repairs must be done in an enclosed garage. Work cannot be done in the public right-of-way and storage of vehicle parts within public view is prohibited.

I want to construct more parking in front of my house. How do I go about doing this?

Since you will most likely be constructing your parking in the public right-of-way, you will need an encroachment permit from the city before you do any work. For further information, call the Belmont Permit Center at (650) 595-7427 and see the Encroachments section in this book.

There are so many cars parked on both sides of my street I can barely drive past them! Is there anything I can do about it?

Cars parked on the street should not interfere with emergency vehicle access, like fire trucks and ambulances. If you can't get your car through, the emergency vehicles probably can't get through either! Please ask your neighbors to move their cars. For further information, call the Police Department at (650) 595-7400.

Does the city have a dog park?

Yes! The Cipriani Dog Park is a fenced, off-leash dog park located next to Cipriani School on Buena Vista Avenue. The park has been in existence since 1992, thanks to a group of dedicated dog lovers who gave their time, money, and love to ensure that our dogs will have a place of their own! The Belmont Bowser Club was formed in 1992 to keep the public informed about the Cipriani Dog Park and to assist with improvements to the park. You can find the Belmont Bowser Club on the web at <http://www.wallahweb.com/bowser/>.

Permits (see Building Permits and Encroachments)

Pets

Do I need a license for my dog? How do I get one?

All dogs must have a current rabies vaccination, must wear a collar with their license number attached, and should be on a leash at all times when they are out in public. Call the San Mateo County Animal Licensing Department at (650) 363-4220. You can also purchase a dog license at the Peninsula Humane Society at 12 Airport Blvd. in San Mateo.

Do I need a license for my cat?

Yes, in Belmont, and many other local communities, you do.

How many dogs or cats can I have in Belmont?

You may have up to four dogs, or four cats, or any combination of dogs and cats such that they total no more than four. If you feed or give a cat water, legally it is yours, even if you never allow it inside your house.

Does Belmont let me keep... Chickens? Horses? Goats?

You may keep domestic fowl, such as chicken, goose, duck, turkey, pigeon, dove, and squab. You must apply for a special permit from animal control services, and all such animals must be confined in a coop or shed at all times. Also, the coop or shed must be 20 feet from all streets, all lot lines, and all dwellings. No rooster over four months old is permitted.

Horses, cows, and goats may be kept on one-acre parcels, limited to 2 animals per acre. There are also setback provisions from houses and streets for the stable or corral. With a conditional use permit, horses, cows, or goats may be kept in a pasture of more than two acres.

Does Belmont have a dog park?

Yes! See the Parks section for more information.

There's a dog running loose in my neighborhood. What do I do?

If you don't feel completely comfortable approaching the dog to check for tags and to call the owner, then call the Peninsula Humane Society Animal Control Services at (650) 340-8200. Approach any dog you don't know with extreme caution or not at all.

My neighbor's dog keeps barking. What can I do about it?

Excessive, continuous, or untimely barking is a public nuisance. It is against the law for a dog owner to fail to exercise proper care of the animal. If you can, try talking to your neighbor (see Neighbors). You can also call the Police Department at (650) 595-7400 and they will attempt to take care of the problem. Habitual cases may result in the animal being impounded.

People in my neighborhood do not pick up after their dogs. What can I do?

What are my responsibilities for having a home alarm system? What will the Belmont police do when my alarm goes off?

First, you need to get a permit for your alarm from the Police Department. It is a misdemeanor to use an alarm system in Belmont without a permit. All audible alarms must be installed or activated to automatically cease transmitting the audible signal within ten minutes. A user or a representative should respond within one hour to the premises upon the request of the Police Department.

Telephone dial alarms must not call the emergency line of the Police Department. Instead, use the business number at (650) 595-7400. The holder of the alarm permit has a responsibility to instruct all persons who use the alarm system in its proper function to avoid false alarms.

An alarm system shall constitute a public nuisance if it activates false alarms MORE THAN THREE TIMES during a permit year. In violation of this rule, the following actions may be taken:

- With the fourth false alarm during a permit year, a permittee shall be required to compensate the city for its response, and shall be billed $50.00.*
- With the fifth false alarm during a permit year, a permittee shall be required to compensate the city for its response, and shall be billed $75.00.*
- With the sixth false alarm and any and all subsequent false alarms, the permittee shall be required to compensate the city for the total cost of its response and shall be billed $100.00.*
- More than six (6) false alarms in a one-year period and the alarm permit shall be revoked.*

Note that all of the above information does NOT apply to car alarms. No permit is required for alarms in your vehicle, and no penalties are issued for false alarms. HOWEVER, if your car alarm is activated and does not shut itself off, it becomes a public nuisance, and the police might tow your car!

Trains

Where is the Belmont train station?

The Belmont train station is up on the elevated portion of the grade separation, just north of Ralston between El Camino and Old County Road. Look for the clock tower!

Where does the train go, and how often does it stop in Belmont?

Commuter service in Belmont is provided by Caltrain, and extends from 4th and King streets in San Francisco down to San Jose. The entire one-way trip takes about 90 minutes. There are 4 train lines during the week that go as far south as Gilroy. The trip from Belmont to San Francisco takes about 40 minutes. Trees

I want to remove a tree from my property. Do I need a permit?

If the tree is a "protected tree," then yes, you need a permit. Call the Parks and Recreation Department for further information at (650) 595-7441. If the tree is not a protected tree, then you do not need a permit to remove the tree from developed residential property.

What is a "protected tree?"

This is a tree that is native to, or which has adapted to, climatic conditions of the area, having a trunk diameter of 10 inches or greater measured 4-1/2 feet above the ground. This includes the following species: Oaks, Bay, Buckeye, Monterey Cypress, Redwood, Giant Sequoia, and Madrone. ANY species of tree with an 18 inch diameter trunk (EXCEPT for Acacias, Eucalyptus, and Monterey Pines) is also considered a "protected tree."

Why does Belmont have a tree ordinance?

Belmont's trees and open space are part of what makes us unique. In addition, the trees in Belmont prevent erosion and lessen the danger of floods and landslides. Much of the land in Belmont is on some type of slope. There are aesthetic and practical reasons to have regulations that control the removal of protected trees in Belmont in order to retain as many trees as possible that are consistent with the reasonable economic use of private property.

I want to trim one of my trees. Do I need a permit?

If a tree is not a protected tree, then you do not need a permit to perform any trimming. If the tree IS protected, then you may remove up to 1/3 of the crown or foliage of the tree without a permit. If you want to remove more than 1/3 of a protected tree, then a permit is required. Please call the Parks and Recreation Department for further information at (650) 595-7441.

One of my neighbor's trees is hanging over the fence in my yard. Can I trim it?

Generally, you have a right to cut any part of the tree that is over your property, as long as you don't permanently damage the tree. To avoid legal problems, it's best to notify your neighbor (the owner of the tree in question) of your intentions before you do anything, so that your neighbor first has a chance to take care of the problem. If the tree is protected (see above) and you want to trim more than 1/3 of the tree, you will also need to get a tree permit from the City.

Where do I apply for a tree permit?

You can get an application for a permit over the counter at the Parks and Recreation office in Twin Pines Park at 1225 Ralston Avenue. Call the Parks and Recreation office first at (650) 595-7441 since 99% of all tree permit applications can get started over the phone.

Water (see also Hydrants)

Where does Belmont city water come from?

Belmont gets water from the Mid-Peninsula Water District, which buys its water from the San Francisco Water Department. Most of the water comes from Sierra snowmelt and is stored in the Hetch Hetchy Reservoir. Our water is delivered through a series of tunnels and pipes over 150 miles long. Most of Belmont water does not come from the Crystal Springs Reservoir, to most people's surprise!

Where can I find my water main shut-off valve?

Look for the main valve where the water supply enters your house. If you can't find it, the Mid-Peninsula Water District can come out and show you where it is. After you locate the valve, you might want to mark it with fluorescent paint or tape in case you have to find it in the dark.

Why is my water bill so high? I don't think I use that much water.

You might have a leak and not even be aware of it. Locate your water meter—it's usually in a concrete box near the curb of your house. Read the meter first at night, and then again in the morning before any water is used. Subtract the first from the second reading to see if any water has leaked out overnight. If you don't have a leak, call the Water District at 591-8941 and ask them to look at your bill and check your meter. If you do have a leak, you should contact a plumber for repairs.

I think I have a leak—what's the first place I should check?

Check your toilets—they are frequent sources of leaks. Put dye tablets or food coloring in the toilet tank. If color appears in the bowl without flushing, there's a leak that should be repaired.

My tap water smells or tastes funny. What can I find out about it?

Belmont water completely complies with all the US Environmental Protection Agency and the California Department of Health Services standards and regulations. Sierra water is disinfected with chlorine and undergoes filtration to greatly reduce the level of contaminants. Infrequent odd tastes and odors in water are usually caused by dissolved gases or minerals, and are typically not harmful. If you have any specific concerns, you can call the Water District office at (650) 591-8941.

Where can I get my tap water tested?

The Mid Peninsula Water District tests our water annually, and will gladly provide you a copy of their most recent test results at the District office at 3 Dairy Lane in Belmont. All customers also receive a copy of the report every year between March and October with their water bill. These tests are much more extensive than any tests you would be able to perform yourself.

Should I store water for emergencies?

YES—you should store one gallon per person in your family per day to last 3-5 days. If you have 4 people in your family, that's 20 gallons of water to put in storage. Use clean, unbreakable containers, and disinfect the water before storing it. You can use tincture of iodine (12 drops/gallon) or chlorine bleach (8 drops/gallon) as a disinfectant.*

Does Belmont city water have fluoride in it?

No. Belmont does not receive fluoridated water from the San Francisco Water Department. Belmont water does have a small amount (0.5 parts per million) of fluoride which occurs from the erosion of natural deposits.

Does Belmont city water have lead in it?

Belmont does not deliver water that contains lead. However, some households acquire lead in their water due to the lead in older, soldered pipe joints.

How “hard” is Belmont city water?

Belmont water has about 40 parts per million (ppm) of Calcium Carbonate, which by most standards is considered “soft.”
